Profile

I'm a UI/UX Designer with a hybrid background in visual design, engineering reasoning, and product thinking.

Recently, I worked as a UI & Web Designer in a B2B company, designing large-scale corporate software products. This experience strengthened my ability to handle complex requirements, multi-step workflows, and enterprise-level design systems.

I collaborated closely with dev team, as well as business analysts, turning technical constraints and business needs into clear, scalable UI solutions.

Challenges motivate me — they sharpen my thinking and inspire me to solve problems in thoughtful and creative ways.
